

Goldwater Acts To Cement Control of Republican Party

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Launching his presidential campaign with the declaration that "extremism in the defense of liberty is no vice," Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater moved today to cement his control of the Republican party.

Goldwater told cheering, stamping, horn-blowing convention delegates as he accepted the GOP nomination in the Cow Palace Thursday night that "it is the cause of Republicanism to ensure that power remains in the hands of the people."

"The Good Lord raised up this mighty republic to be a home of the brave and to flourish as the land of the free — not to stagnate in the swamp of collectivism—not to cringe before the bullying of communism," he declared.

Cheered throughout his speech he got his biggest hand from delegates who had been warned about the threat of extremist elements to their party when he said: "Extremism in the defense of liberty is no vice. Moderation in the pursuit of justice is no virtue."

Clad in a dark business suit and wearing, as usual, his horn-rimmed glasses, Goldwater marched triumphantly into the glare on the podium after his unanimously elected running mate, Rep. William E. Miller of New York, had accepted the vice presidential nomination. Balloons cascaded down on the Arizona senator as pandemonium broke loose.

Miller, noted as a rough-and-tumble campaigner, played down his role with a short speech in which he said he was happy to be standing in the campaign at the side of "a man who more than any other I have ever known in American life speaks the truth to the people, courageously stands for principle, and devotes himself completely to keeping America free."

The formalities having been observed and the 28th Republican Convention over, Goldwater turned his attention to taking over the command of the GOP National Committee.

The presidential candidate acted in advance to pick Dean Burch, second man in his campaign command, to replace Miller as head of the committee. He has said he wants to bring the committee actively into the campaign and to channel any future patronage through it.

The triumph of Goldwater's conservatism left some wounds unhealed among some of those who had opposed his nomination. Michigan Gov. George W. Romney said that unless the nominee demonstrates that he is willing to go beyond the platform in some vital areas, such as civil rights, "I will go home and campaign for Michigan Republicans."

Sen. Kenneth B. Keating of New York, who was one of the most active opponents of the Ar-izonan before his nomination, left the Cow Palace immediately after Goldwater's speech. He was followed by about half the New York delegation, setting off a stir of speculation that they were staging a protest walkout.

However, New York National Committeeman George Hinman said there was no such intention, and other New York Republicans said all that was involved was an effort to beat the traffic out of the Cow Palace area.

About as near as Goldwater came to the civil rights issue in his acceptance speech was his declaration: "We do not seek to live anyone's life for him—we seek only to secure his rights, guarantee him opportunity to strive, with government performing only those needed and constitutionally sanctioned tasks which cannot otherwise be performed."

Miller, who voted in the House for the civil rights bill which Goldwater opposed in the Senate, was expected to take some of the heat of this issue off the head of the ticket.

But Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., a Negro leader, described Goldwater's nomination as "disastrous." He urged voters to deny support to any Republican candidate who "does not publicly disassociate himself from Sen. Goldwater and his philosophy."

In Washington George Reedy, White House press secretary, commented on Goldwater's previous description of Johnson as "the biggest faker in the United States" and "the phoniest individual who ever came along."

"I think that the American people have spent a good many years building up the status of the presidency, and I don't think we would want to contribute to the tearing down of the status of the presidency," Reedy said.

There was no White House comment on Goldwater's acceptance speech.

Goldwater avoided any personal attacks on the President in his speech winding up the convention. But he attacked the Johnson administration policies vigorously.

Declaring that Americans must renew freedom's vision, he declared:

"During four futile years, the administration we shall replace has distorted and lost that vision."

"It has talked and talked and talked the words of freedom. But it has failed and failed and failed in the works of freedom."

"We have lost the brisk pace of diversity and the genius of individual creativity. We are plodding at a pace set by centralized planning, red tape, rules without responsibility and regimentation without recourse."

In the international field, Goldwater said that "during the Democratic years . . . we have

Sheppard to Be Returned to Prison

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard was expected to be back in prison today after spending his first night of freedom in years in a plush motel here.

The 40-year-old former osteopath had meals served in his room, went swimming and visited with relatives. And he was reunited with a fiancée he did not know before entering Ohio penitentiary nine years ago for the 1954 bludgeon slaying of his wife, Marilyn.

The controversial murder case that attracted worldwide interest became even more bizarre in the last two days.

A federal district judge in Dayton ruled Wednesday that Sheppard had been denied constitutional rights in his trial and ordered him released from prison, setting the stage for a retrial.

Thursday, the balding one-time Cleveland suburbanite walked out of the penitentiary. About the same time, a U.S. appeals court judge in Cincinnati stayed the district court order.

That meant Sheppard had to return to prison at least until a hearing could be conducted on the stay order.

Couldn't Find Marshal
The papers necessary to return Sheppard to the prison arrived here about 7 p.m. but state officials could not locate a U.S. marshal to serve them and take Sheppard into custody.

After signing his $10,000 bond papers in the federal building here Thursday, Sheppard went to the motel and told newsmen he would remain there until a marshal arrived.

Sheppard steadfastly has contended that a bushy-haired intruder beat his pregnant wife to death on July 4, 1954. Although only months away from a possible parole, Sheppard now faces the risk of a retrial that could result in a first-degree murder conviction and a possible death sentence. Originally he was found guilty of second-degree murder in a two-month trial that ended Dec. 21, 1954.

Wedding Plans Delayed
Sheppard said Thursday his fiancée, Ariane Tebbenjohanns, and he had planned to fly to another state to be married immediately. However, he said these plans had been called off.

Mrs. Tebbenjohanns, a 34-year-old German divorcee, arrived at the motel about 7 p.m. Fashionably attired in a white dress, the silver-blond left the engine in her car running as she dashed to Sheppard's room. The couple posed for photographs and went for a 20-minute swim in the motel pool.

Sheppard's attorney, F. Lee Bailey, said he is confident that Sheppard will be released again by Monday or Tuesday. No site has been set for the hearing on the stay, which will be before a three-judge panel.

Sheppard, tanned and looking trim, left Ohio Penitentiary at 1:10 p.m. Thursday. As he signed his bail papers he breathed: "Finally!"

Then in a brief press conference he said prison life was

Greenford's Budget OK'd

$261,601 School Measure Enacted

GREENFORD — The Board of Education of Green Local District Thursday night adopted a record 1965 budget of $261,601, some $13,000 more than last year's, and employed a new music teacher, leaving only one instructor's post to fill before school starts.

Of the budget total, $35,262.50 is for bond retirement, according to Board President Paul Garrett.

The new music instructor employed last night is Garcia Rasicot of Youngstown, who has been teaching the past two years at Lakeview Schools in Cortland, Trumbull County.

Rasicot is a graduate of Danbury (Conn.) State Teachers College. He taught two years in Danbury public schools and served seven years in the Navy before going to Cortland.

Supt. of Schools Woodrow W. Bailey said Rasicot will begin music lessons and organize the Greenford High band soon.

Still needed is a part-time art teacher for junior and senior high school. The teacher will also instruct one other subject.

The board asked for bids due by Aug. 15 to supply stoker coal and milk and bread for the cafeteria next school term.

Bailey reported that a check for $2,023.75 has been received from the State Department of Education as its share in a Title III project — the purchase of electronic equipment for dual use in shop and in physics.

The board decided to instruct the Myers Equipment Co. to do needed body work on the school bus operated by Wayne Johnson.

Clerk Albert Lang was given permission to attend a clerk's clinic at Kent State University Tuesday.

Burns Fatal to Year-Old Child

Robley T. Fageol, year-old son of Frank and Judy Bichsel Fageol of 1175 Norwood, Kent, died at 2:30 a.m. today in Akron Children's Hospital as the result of burns suffered in a mishap in the home July 7.

The child was burned when he accidentally upset a percolator of hot coffee.

The baby was born July 5, 1963, at Kent. The mother is a former Salem resident and the daughter of Mrs. Kathryn Bichsel of 308 W. 8th St.

Liverpool Dedicates Nursing Center

EAST LIVERPOOL—Officials of East Liverpool City Hospital dedicated today a new $667,000 nurses training center with a capacity to handle 64 student nurses.

The Metsch-Harker residence already has a class of 34 nurses and expects 30 new students Sunday.

It was built from contributions from East Liverpool industrialists Cassius M. Metsch and Hal N. Harker, both now dead, and federal funds.

Auditor Answers Joseph's Charges

City Auditor Helen Coyne today issued a reply to an attack on her by Council President Ford Joseph Jr. for statements she made in a recent News article concerning the city's repurchase of the old Smith Well Field from the Salem Area Industrial Development Corp.

Joseph's criticism of the auditor was published in Thursday's News. Following is Mrs. Coyne's answer:

"Mr. Joseph stated that the ordinance was no surprise. To me it is very surprising how quickly they spent $20,933 of the taxpayers money in 'high financing' when at the previous meeting they were very much concerned about the money to be transferred to the general fund by abolishing the parking meter fund. Their concern was that if the money was put into the general fund it would be spent by the end of the year."

"As I previously stated this cannot happen as this money has not been appropriated and cannot be spent until Council does appropriate it. The only way any of this money can be used would be to reimburse the general fund for any shortage there might be in our estimated revenue that was made in the budget for 1964 (The budget is prepared in July of each year for the following year)."

"Mr. Joseph suggested that I check my books in regard to the capital improvement fund. My books are always checked and in balance with the bank, and are always open for public inspection."

"The capital improvement

U.S. Launches 3 Satellites

Designed to Detect Nuclear Explosions

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)

—Two sentry satellites and a "pygmy" satellite rocketed into great egg-shaped orbits today in a complex triple launching that could lead to U.S. development of a foolproof system to detect illicit nuclear explosions in space.

The trio of radiation-sensing packages rode into space atop a single powerful Atlas-Agena rocket which blazed brilliantly in the early morning darkness at 3:22 a.m. (EST).

The Air Force reported 20 minutes later that the 10-story-tall booster had drilled the three satellites into separate highly elliptical orbits.

The exact path was not known immediately but early tracking information indicated the payloads were very close to the intended course ranging from 120 to 63,000 miles above the earth.

All three space messengers were flashing clear radio signals to ground stations.

It was the fourth time the

Nation's Economy Reported Booming

WASHINGTON (AP)—A rosy outlook for the nation's economy was projected today from facts and figures reported from the White House, and President Johnson hailed "our strong and balanced economic expansion."

He commented after the Commerce Department reported Thursday a $10 billion rise in the annual rate of the gross national product for the April-June quarter over that for the preceding three months.

That came only a few hours after Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz visited the White House to report to Johnson that total non-farm employment and weekly factory earnings reached record high levels during June.

The announcements broke a self-imposed silence at the White House during most of the Republican national convention, and still contained no direct reference to Republican charges of "fiscal irresponsibility" against the Democrats.

"All I'm reporting is 'the facts. You interpret them," Wirtz told newsmen.

The Commerce Department made its own announcement of a record $618.5 billion yearly rate for the gross national product—the sum of all goods and services, government and private.

But Johnson was primed with a statement that "we fully expect the gains in the second half of the year to be even greater than the first."

It was the 14th straight quarter, dating back to early 1961 in which the figure has set a new high, and the figure was $100 billion higher than that during the 1960 recession.

Consumer expenditures accounted for $6 billion of the quarter's increase, a smaller percentage than the $3.7 billion added by consumers to the first quarter's $9.8 billion advance.

The quarterly gain bore out predictions made by adminis-

Another Tough Spot

Wilderness Ordeal Survivor Now In Viet Nam

MT. KATAHDIN, Maine (AP)

—Twenty-five years ago today a 12-year-old Boy Scout from Rye, N.Y., disappeared near the fog-shrouded summit of Mt. Katahdin.

Nine days later, Donn Fendler stumbled out of the wilderness nearly naked, half starved, scratched, bruised and insect-bitten.

Fendler's stamina and cool-headedness won the nation's praise in 1939.

On that July 17, while hiking with his father, Donald, and twin brother, Ryan, Donn tried a short cut and became lost.

The largest-up to then—search party ever organized in New England spent day after day on the mountain's barren crags. At the end of a week, hope was virtually gone. The boy had no food and was thinly clad.

But on July 25, the exhausted Donn reached the shore of the Penobscot River's east branch 35 miles from the mountain.

His faint cries were heard by Nelson McMoarn, who canoed across from his sporting camp.

To newsmen, Donn related his story:

"When he realized he was lost, 'I shouted but got no reply. I tried to find north but couldn't. After that it was just a case of going on and looking for any trail or landmark that I might run across.

"I found an old burlap bag hanging to a tree and made myself a sleeping bag. I crawled into it each night and pulled my shirt over my head

Salineville Man Critically Hurt In Sawmill Accident

A 57-year-old Salineville area sawmill operator was in "critical" condition today at East Liverpool City Hospital with severe internal injuries suffered when a saw sliced into his abdomen at his mill Thursday.

Lyman Dowdell of the Salineville - Summitville Rd. received lacerations of the abdomen and internal organs when he either fell against the saw or inadvertently pulled it against himself at the mill at his home about a mile and a half north of Salineville.

An employee of the mill found Dowdell slumped over the saw and summoned aid.

Rushed to the hospital by ambulance after the mishap about 1 p.m., the victim underwent surgery and was scheduled for additional surgery today.

Bundy Steele, N. Waterford, Is Victim

Auto Hits Culvert On Rt. 14 Curve Near Columbiana

Traveling at an apparent high speed, a 40-year-old New Waterford motorist, the father of eight children, was killed when his auto smashed into a concrete culvert today at 3:05 a.m. on Route 14 near Firestone Farms, east of Columbiana.

Bundy W. Steele of Boardman St. was pronounced dead on arrival at Salem City Hospital to become Columbiana County's 12th traffic death of 1964, two less than last year at this time.

Coroner William Kolozsi said the tragedy might have been prevented if the victim had been wearing a seat belt. Steele was thrown from the auto, suffering severe internal and head injuries and multiple fractures which the coroner said caused his death. He was alone in the vehicle.

The Lisbon Post of the State Highway Patrol reported Steele was heading east on Route 14, about a mile east of Route 7, driving too fast apparently for road conditions, when he lost control of his 1957 Chevrolet and plowed into the abutment on a curve. The auto left the road and rolled over several times, coming to rest on its wheels. The vehicle was demolished.

The mishap occurred on what is known as "Keating's Curve" as Steele was returning from work at the Youngstown Steel Door Co. where he was employed as an assembler.

Other Accidents
In a two-car mishap in Boardman Thursday at 10:10 a.m., a Columbiana motorist was slightly injured. He is Elmer Simon, 31 of RD 1, Columbiana, who was cut on the left cheek and arm.

Simon was driving east on Route 224 when William Grosen, 76, of RD 1, New Waterford, going north on Route 7,

Life-Saving Class Set at Columbiana

COLUMBIANA — Perry Kyser, Firestone Park manager, has announced that a Red Cross senior life-saving class for persons 16 and over will be held from 8 to 10 a.m. weekdays beginning July 27, at the Firestone Pool and continuing for a two-week period.

Red Cross junior life-saving classes are scheduled to begin Aug. 10 for a two-week period from 8 to 10 a.m. for youths under the age of 16.

There will be no charge for the instruction. Interested persons are asked to contact the pool office.

Friendship Class of the Methodist Church will hold a picnic at 6:30 p.m. Thursday at the home of Mrs. Paul Cline of 117 E. Woodland Ave. Members attending are to bring a cover-dish and table service. In the event of rain the picnic will be held in the church basement.

COLUMBIANA BOOSTER Club members will conduct a doortodoor membership drive in August, according to Don Gosney, president of the organization. Plans for the project were discussed during a recent meeting.

A "get acquainted night" for the purpose of introducing the new coach, Ray Bellisari, to parents of boys who will be participating in the fall football program, has been scheduled for Aug. 3, at pavilion 2 of Firestone Park.

Other announcements concerned permanent installation of the stands renovated by the members a year ago, on the north side of the football stadium, with the observation tower being transferred to the south side of the field, and remodeling of locker room facilities soon to be undertaken. Football players and coaches are to be served lunches during summer practices.

ONE-YEAR scholarships to Ohio University have been awarded Grace Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clark of 104 W. Park Ave., and Brian Arbuckle, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Arbuckle of S. Middle St. according to information received from the university.

Both are 1964 graduates of Columbiana High School. Miss Clark received an honor scholarship and Arbuckle a freshman scholarship on the basis of test scores, academic achievement, and high school activities.

Mondas Entertain For Kiwanians

A program about Romania, sponsored by the International Relations Committee, was presented by Mr. and Mrs. Cornell P. Monda of Lisbon when the Salem Kiwanis Club met Thursday at the Memorial Building.

Monda presented four narrations about Romania, and Mrs. Monda sang and played the saxophone. She displayed various Romanian clothes and embroidery work and dressed in native costume.

Monda, born in Romania, came to this country with his parents when he was two years old. Mrs. Monda is also of Romanian lineage, although she was born in Argentina. She is a former Salem resident.

Monda, a psychologist, is director of psychological and guidance services of the Lisbon schools, and consulting psychologist of the Chillicothe Counseling Center at East Liverpool. He also serves as second vice president of the Lisbon Kiwanis Club.

He received his master's degree from Western Reserve University and completed residence requirements at the doctoral level at Ohio State University.

Mrs. Monda, nee Georgiana Buta, a Salem High School graduate, is a registered nurse. Warren W. Brown was program chairman.

52,000 At Boy Scout Jamboree

VALLEY FORGE, Pa. (AP)—The Boy Scout is a swapper.

He'll give almost anything to get almost anything. And some stuff he sells for a profit.

Like the deer hides 15-year-old Skipper Netherly of Junction, Tex., brought along, plus a number of Mexican knives.

"I want $10 for the hides," he said, "and I'll take $5 for the knives." He hoped to have takers near the end of the week-long sixth national jamboree that started officially today on the green hills and valleys of historic Valley Forge.

It began when an aerial bomb exploded high in the sky to signal the raising of 1,800 flags as the 52,000 participating scouts and leaders stood at attention. Joseph A. Brunton Jr., chief of the nation's 54 million scouts, looked over the city of 30,000 tents and said, "This represents what's good about America."

The trading tents were jammed with hundreds of boys from every state in the nation, and from many of the 44 foreign countries. They sat cross-legged on the grass floor or crowded around wooden tables.

They had cigar boxes, shoe boxes, paper bags, stuffed with neckerchiefs, shoulder patches, lapel patches, stuffed turtles, rattlesnake rattlers, oyster shells, rocks and metal rings.

The scouts have been rolling in here since Tuesday. With them came 60 carloads of baggage.

Everything reached its destination, a spokesman said, except one pair of trowsers.

By ETTA MAE ALEXANDER

Members of the Past Councilors of the Daughters of America, elected Wednesday evening at the Meade Restaurant on Route 7, preceding the meeting held at the D of A hall for the annual election of officers.

Mrs. Thelma Hill was elected president; Mrs. Helen Harrison, vice president; Mrs. Florence Stacey, secretary; Mrs. Florence Babb, treasurer; Mrs. Virginia Williams, relief committee; Mrs. Ollie Carnes, dinner committee; Mrs. Bessie Cullison, reporter.

Prizes for games and cards were awarded to Mrs. Olive Ogle, Mrs. Sarah Holshue, Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Hill.

Attending the dinner party were Mrs. Gertrude McCord, Mrs. Mary Hoy, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Kathryn Gunn, Mrs. Cullison, Mrs. Stacey, Mrs. Mary Chilik, Mrs. Babb, Mrs. Holshue, Mrs. Margaret Brunner, Mrs. Carnes, Mrs. Lela Stock, Mrs. Nannie Meehan, Mrs. Sadie Rose, Mrs. Ogle, Mrs. Harrison, Mrs. Lydia Bennett.

The next meeting, July 29, hostesses will be Mrs. Hill, Mrs. Stacey and Mrs. Harrison. The Lisbon Social Club dined at Barber's Restaurant in Boardman Wednesday evening prior to having a game of miniature golf.

A guest was Mrs. Marsh of Tampa, Fla., who is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Ross Hott. Birthday gifts and cards were presented to Mrs. Hott by the club. Souvenirs of the New York World's Fair were presented to each one by Mrs. Harvey Cusick, who recently returned from a vacation trip there. The club will meet at the home of Mrs. Russell Reynolds of Caldwell Ave. July 29.

Who cares about the motorist?

Does!

Some of AAA's activities benefit all motorists. Everyone who uses a car has been saved time and money through AAA's campaign for:

- Better Highways
- Equitable Taxation
- Fair Motor Laws

Over 8 million motorists enjoy all of AAA's many direct, personal services—services designed to make using your car more economical and much more enjoyable.

Why not invest a few dollars in your motoring comfort and pleasure? Who's more entitled to these services than you?

Catholics, Protestants Aid In Feeding Needy Brazilians

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—Roman Catholics and Protestants have joined hands in a voluntary program that is getting American food to more than two million needy Brazilians. The program, which gets its supplies from U.S. Food for Peace, is the biggest of its kind in the world.

It began three years ago with a handful of workers. Today, nearly 100,000 men and women, half of them on a part-time basis, contribute their time to this task. Many are retired businessmen and housewives.

The U.S. government supplies the food and transports it to Brazilian docks. But once there, the job becomes the responsibility of Brazilian men and women and organizations, headed by the Brazil Voluntary Agency.

This allies the Catholic Relief Service, the Protestant Church World Service and Lutheran World Relief, all cooperating with Brazilian agencies.

Costs of the program in Brazil are almost totally paid by the Brazilian church organizations. The Brazilian government helps by giving duty-free entry to the food from America, providing some warehouses and some transportation.

But the firm backbone of the operation is the mass of men and women who volunteer their time.

Through them, food is distributed in cities such as Rio de Janeiro and Sao Paulo, and more difficult, in many small towns and communities in the vast Brazilian interior.

The network now includes 12,000 Catholic distribution centers that reach two million persons and 3,200 protestant centers that reach half a million.

Mocking the Judicial System

When Dr. Richard N. Sheppard, one of two older brothers of Samuel H. Sheppard, said he was "a little astounded" to hear of a federal judge's order that Sam be released from prison, his astonishment was as nothing compared with that of a wide cross-section of the legal profession.

U. S. District Court Judge Carl A. Weinman's decision that Sam Sheppard's 1954 wife-murder trial was unfair and that his imprisonment was "void" led immediately to this reaction:

Are judges required to obey the law?

Sam Sheppard was convicted of second-degree murder by a Cuyahoga County Common Pleas jury. His conviction was reviewed and upheld by the Eighth District Court of Appeals, by the Ohio Supreme Court twice and by the U. S. Supreme Court.

Now comes Judge Weinman of the lowest federal court to set himself above the highest court in the land, whose decisions are held to be the LAW, beyond which there is no appeal.

If Sam Sheppard's conviction was "a mockery of justice," as Judge Weinman ruled, our astonishment is that the U.S. Supreme Court didn't see it that way.

This sensational development 10 years after one of the most sensational criminal cases in Ohio history would seem to make a mockery of our entire judicial system.

The Job Never Goes Begging

Suppose you saw the following ad in the help wanted column in this newspaper:

Administrator: Temporary
work. No chance for advancement. 112-hour week. Subject to call at all hours. Heavy responsibilities. Unsolvability problems and constant crises. Must expect better and continual criticism from millions of bosses and open opposition from many business associates. Little privacy for self and family. Great personal danger. Good pay if you can find time to enjoy it.

Would you apply for the job?

Yet, the office of president of the United States has never gone unfilled or unsought. It is, on the contrary, hotly contested for, and huge sums of money are spent to enable the candidates to get it, Why?

WHY WOULD any man in his right mind want to subject himself and his family to the mental, emotional and physical wring-out occupants of the White House must endure?

Conceding the elements of personal pride and ambition, egotism, desire for prestige and the satisfaction of being in the No. 1 spot, you must also recognize that no man could serve as president of the United States without possessing a great measure of devotion and dedication to his country and a real feeling for public service.

Why else would anyone be not only willing but eager to assume such problems on the home front as civil rights, taxes, budget, foreign aid, school prayer, labor-management relations and national economy?

Why else would he knowingly take on such international brainteasers as Cyprus, Thailand, Laos, the Congo, Viet Nam, Cuba, Indonesia, Malaya, Zanzibar, South America, Khrushchev, Red China, De Gaulle, etc., etc., ad infinitum?

CITIZENS of the United States should be deeply grateful that over the years men of the caliber of our presidents have volunteered for the hottest seat in government and have filled it so ably.

Whoever is elected to the White House next November needs and deserves the cooperation, loyalty and support of every citizen in these troublous days at home and abroad—reserving, of course, the inherent right of every American to gripe a little and to run the country superbly as a Monday morning quarterback.

Namara, his cost-cutting is coming along so well that he predicts the Defense Department will be "saving" $4.6 billion a year by 1968.

The question is two fold.

First, what will be the basis of comparison for saving money four years from now? Matter of fact, what is the basis of comparison for saving money now?

Second, if money is being saved at a multi-billion-dollar rate, what becomes of it? Is it turned over to some other department? Certainly it isn't refunded to taxpayers. The federal government is still operating in the red.

The idea Secretary McNamara is trying to get across must be that the Federal deficit would be $2.5 more than it is if he hadn't watched pennies in the Defense Department.

He didn't actually save anything. He just refrained from spending something.

On this basis, a family that didn't take a trip around the world last fiscal year, didn't buy a cruiser, a mansion in Palm Beach, a mink coat for Mama and a new sports car for its No. 1 son "saved" $500,000.

That would have been pretty blood-stirring if the family hadn't already been running into debt. Four years from now, if the family doesn't buy an island off the coast of Georgia, a twin-engine plane, a castle in Spain and blow itself to a couple of goat-gland operations, it will "save" a million.

more in common with the Atlantic Seaboard than with the Pacific Coast. We have more roots in New England and the original states than we have in the Great Plains, the Rockies, the Southwest, or the Northwest.

Yet, we are not Easterners. We do not share the illusion that buffalo roam west of the Appalachians. We are not provincial. We look in both directions and find the sunrise as glorious as the sunset.

But we do not think exclusively either way. We think in a way of our own. This is going to be tough for us and the new masters of the control center.

Westerners are going to want us to think their way, but they won't have any more luck with us than Easterners had.

They are going to want us to identify ourselves with them, wear funny hats, think big and turn our toes in when we walk.

IF THEY run true to form, they will be insistent, just as the Easterners were all the years while trying to hammer us into their mold. It is going to be a painful experience.

If the gentlemen newly come to power in Republican politics want to be smart, they will let us be alone in Ohio; i.e., they will let us be Ohioans. They won't classify us.

They might as well do it this way because it's the way we will do it anyway. We never joined the cult of the East and haven't the slightest notion of joining the cult of the West.

We're in the middle, as always. Stuck.

We're Getting the Hang of It

We think Secretary of Defense McNamara is the sharpest cabineteeer to hit Washington since Andrew Mellon was the greatest secretary of the treasury since Alexander Hamilton.

But he is doing something slippery about reporting savings in his department. His cost reduction program, he says, "saved" $2.5 billion for U.S. taxpayers last year. Moreover, says Secretary Mc-

The Irony of Oswald

The ghostly words from Lee Harvey Oswald's diary are filled with irony, seven months after his ignominious murder in the basement of the Dallas, Tex. jail. As reproduced by the Dallas Morning News, the diary tells of Oswald's dejection and attempted suicide after being refused an extension of his visa in Russia.

The tragic irony, of course, is that Oswald botched the attempt on his own life only to succeed with the apparent poise of a professional in taking the life of President Kennedy four years later.

No American can be blamed for wishing that if Oswald was destined to have an effect on the course of history he had done it by succeeding in October of 1959 or at least by failing in November of 1963.

In the Middle

A tough decision is coming up for Ohioans in the 1964 presidential election. It will be as hard to handle as the attempt to split us between conservatives and liberals.

The fact is, of course, that most of us are a little of each. We are conservative about barging into bathrooms before knocking but liberal when eating away from home at company expense.

This dual character now is going to be extended into another dimension of politics. The boys will want to divide us between easterners and westerners.

Even babes in their cribs now know the Golden West has routed the Golden East as the nerve center of Republican party control.

The funds and the strategy for the Goldwater campaign came from west of the Mississippi, where everything is higher—where the wallets are fatter, the spaces more open and the sky is not cloudy all day.

This was what the real fight was about before and during the GOP convention. Squabbles about party ideology can be patched up, but in a country as big as this one East is East and West is West and never the twain shall meet.

SO WHAT is going to become of all of us who hold membership in neither section?

Ohioans aren't Easterners or Westerners. In the jargon commonly used, we are Mid-Westerners, but it could just as easily be Mid-Easterners.

In the course of our lives, we have

So We Bid Farewell to San Francisco

Bail System Injustices

Victor Riesel is on a news gathering trip through Africa and Eastern Europe. In his absence, prominent Americans are pinch-hitting for him.

By ROBERT F. KENNEDY
United States Attorney General

Daniel Walker of Glen Cove, N.Y., was arrested recently on suspicion of robbing a local delicatessen. He could not raise the $10,000 bail or the bondsman's fee to secure release from jail.

For 55 days Walker remained in jail. He lost his job, his credit rating, and his car. His wife had to move in with her parents. Then Walker was discovered to be the victim of mistaken identity. He went free. But it took him four months to find another job.

In Birmingham, a 26-year-old man was arrested and held without bond in the stabbing of an FBI agent. He was in jail for five months before a 16-year-old admitted that he was guilty of the attack.

In Los Angeles, accused persons denied bond spend an average of 78 days in jail before coming to trial—whether guilty or innocent.

How is this time returned to Walker or the 26-year-old Birmingham man or innumerable others like them, in Los Angeles and around the country?

THE ANSWER, of course, is that time, money and the loss of dignity never can be returned. It's one of the tragedies of a bail system which inflicts repeated injustices on the poor, needlessly.

These are abuses which can be corrected. Why not release more defendants, accused of the less serious crimes, on their personal recognizance or "word of honor"?

In its Manhattan Bail Project experimenting with such release, the Vera Foundation of

New York City last year recommended release on recognizance for 2,400 defendants. Only 19, representing seven-tenths of 1 per cent violated their trust. This was a better record than by those released after posting bail.

The theory of bail in our system, of course, is intended to insure the appearance of the defendant when his case is called for trial. But it has worked out instead to be a test of financial ability.

THE DEFENDANT with the money and the professional bondsman gets out of jail. The defendant without funds remains in jail for that reason alone.

In protecting justice for all men—rich and poor—we must make sure the indigent defendant is provided with full legal protection. He is not protected when the law detains him for lack of a few dollars to meet a bondsman's fee.

Control of bail, as a matter of record, has frequently been passed by default to the professional bondsmen. We must share the concern of Judge J. Skelly Wright of the Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia, who wrote recently: "Professional bondsmen hold the keys to the jail in their pockets. . . . The court and commissioners are relegated to the relatively unimportant chore of fixing the amount of bail."

While providing what amounts to another penalty for the defendant, bail also can be a drain on the taxpayer. In 1963, federal prisoners spent 600,000 man days awaiting trial. This cost was $2 million.

NEW YORK CITY alone spends $10 million in local tax funds to detain prisoners awaiting trial. In addition, local welfare and relief funds often must be paid to their wageless families.

Such many-sided problems of bail prompted us to call the recent 3-day National Bail Conference in Washington last month. This was a better record than by those released after posting bail.

Some 500 lawyers, prosecutors, police, sheriffs and judges gathered to discuss the unfair balance of the scales against the poor man and his ability to be released before trial.

Solutions like that found by the Vera Foundation in New York were discussed, with attention paid to their applicability in different communities. Other answers were proposed, for adaptation according to different needs in different cities.

Soon regional conferences will be called on bail throughout the country to further impress the importance of solutions to these abuses on our responsible officials and citizens. Detailed reports of the conference in Washington are being prepared for many law enforcement officers who could not attend.

WE ARE OPTIMISTIC, too, about action that has been taken since the conference.

The Citizens Crime Commission of Delaware already has called a meeting on possible improvements in the bail system there. Lawyers in Minnesota have called a meeting. A meeting has been scheduled in Toledo. The state's attorneys office in Chicago is anxious to work on the problem.

All of us concerned with this problem are hopeful that this represents only a beginning in the struggle for equal justice for the poor as well as the rich.

The country, the state and the local community and most of all—the defendant—deserve the equal protection of law each man is due from our society.

Through The Years

10 YEARS AGO—Dr. Saburo Yasumura, former secretary of the National Sunday School Association of Japan, will speak at two meetings in Salem Tuesday.

The Bethlehem Class of the First Methodist Church held a picnic at Centennial Park Thursday.

25 YEARS AGO The Kiwanis club's annual picnic will be held tomorrow afternoon and evening at the Salem Country Club.

Roy W. Harris, secretary of the civil service commission reported today that at least 20 men have obtained application blanks enabling them to take exams for firemen.

35 YEARS AGO—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Everstone of Salem have returned after vacationing throughout the eastern states.

The Whole Story

By DAVID LAWRENCE
SAN FRANCISCO — Amateurism lost to professionalism. Inexperience was beaten by experience. Maturity triumphed over immaturity.

But even ways of explaining the victory by Sen. Goldwater over his opponents do not tell the whole story.

For, as Shakespeare once wrote: "There is a tide in the affairs of men which, taken at the flood, leads on to fortune."

INDEED, there is a tide running among the American people today which has escaped the eye of many of the pollsters. It also has been underestimated by many wishful thinkers in the ranks of so-called "liberalism" in America.

The tide cannot just be called "conservatism." It is in the main a protest against the mistakes of those who do not yet see the distinction between true liberalism and radical liberalism based on a written Constitution and policy making based on the Constitution which arbitrarily take away individual rights.

PROTESTS against such usurpations of power have hitherto been cavalierly brushed aside as "reactionary" or "extremist."

But the people are not swayed by slogans or epithets. They are concerned about what affects their lives directly, and they don't like fiscal extravagance in the guise of humanitarianism or centralization of power in the name of "progress."

The general trends have been grossly misjudged, and the amateurs who steered the campaign of Gov. Scranton failed to see that New Dealism—by whatever name is called today—has really worn out its welcome.

Even a "great society" can't be great if the purchasing power of the dollar is frittered away.

THE THREE governors who way the minds of experienced the various planks that were rejected for inclusion in the party platform didn't know legislative mechanics or the ended politicians really work in judging the electorate.

Gov. Scranton, Gov. Rockefeller and Gov. Romney didn't have a chance against skillful practitioners like Rep. Laird of Wisconsin, Rep. Ford of Michigan and Rep. McCulloch of Ohio, who know that to amend a platform to improve it is one thing but to try to amend it so as to carry on a vendetta against a particular candidate is something else gain.

EACH OF the proposed changes really was designed to hurt Goldwater by negating some things which he may have said or implied in past speeches made off the cuff but which were not borne out by the platform submitted to the convention by the 100-member committee here:

The alternate planks offered were superfluous expressions, as the same points already had been made in the diplomatic or implicit language in which platform planks usually are written.

This is not to disparage the sincerity of those who wanted to see amendments adopted but to question their strategy and judgment at a national convention.

FOR NOBODY recognizes more quickly a maneuver hostile to the candidacy of the man he is backing than the manager of a prospective nominee in the lead.

Governors of states aren't as experienced in the nuances of national policies and the public reaction to them as are members of Congress who live with such controversies from day to day.

The Republican platform adopted here covers the same objectives as those which the Scranton, Rockefeller and Romney blocs of delegates really wanted.

It was a mistake to launch a platform fight on such issues, despite the impression which some of the advocates gave that there were really fundamental differences.

SEN. GOLDWATER came out ahead because he has campaigned for 10 years across the nation for candidates of the Republican party and he continuously has expressed a viewpoint that has become popular today. Nobody else was as effective in the many months of pre-convention campaigning, and he alone has been able to criticize the incumbent Democratic administration without being compelled to adopt a sort of "me-tooism" which confuses the voter.

The theory that the two parties are after the same result and differ only in how to attain it has lost many congressional seats for the Republican party because the arguments have been neither definitive nor persuasive.

THE ARIZONA SENATOR is courageous and outspoken. More delegates at the conclusion of this convention will go home with the idea that Mr. Goldwater can win the election in November than held any such belief before coming to San Francisco.

For they see the arguments on current issues in terms of the public's reaction, and they sense a protest vote in the making which could win the election.

Useful Carbon Black

Carbon black—a sophisticated "cousin" to that unpopular substance, soot—is one of the most useful products of modern industry, according to an article in Petroleum Today magazine.

More than 2 billion pounds of carbon black are produced each year in 41 American plants, a quantity that comprises about 70 percent of the total world production.

Carefully designed to perform a variety of functions, carbon black is manufactured in 30 different grades by the controlled burning of oil or natural gas in the absence of sufficient oxygen to consume all the carbon.

THE RESULTING product, light and fluffy in texture, is used to strengthen and toughen rubber tires, raincoats and conveyor belts. It goes into bowling balls typewriter ribbons, eyebrow pencils, television tubes and printer's ink. Its particles are so tiny that the period at the end of a sentence in ordinary printed matter contains nearly one billion particles of carbon black.

It also has been used to help control the weather and to protect farm crops against frost damage. The article says that under certain conditions, clouds can be made to produce rain when carbon black is dropped into them from an airplane. When released in moist, cloudless air, carbon black can lift the fog from airports by absorbing heat and causing the air to rise and form clouds in the sky.

Though soft to the touch, carbon black is used as an abrasive for polishing the lenses, prisms, and reflectors of optical instruments. It is also used to make some of the hardest tool-steel alloys and the most powerful explosives.

HISTORY RECORDS the use of lampblack as a pigment as far back as 1200 B.C. Ancient Romans and Egyptians used ink made from lampblack, and centuries later Gutenberg used the same black substance to give body to the ink used in printing his Bible.

Carbon black's particles are so fine and powdery that one pound can cover a 10-acre area.

The late Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd made use of this characteristic of carbon black by having bombs of the substance dropped on the snow at the South Pole to provide his surveyors and mapmakers with wide and easily visible points of reference.

In recent years, scientists have developed an electrically conductive form of carbon black which can be used in making tires that ground static electricity. This provides important safety advantages for vehicles carrying large quantities of fuel, such as airplanes and tank trucks.

Q's and A's

Q—How is the age of a horse determined?

A—The age of any horse is calculated from January 1, regardless of the time of year it was actually born. A foal becomes a yearling on January 1 after the date of its birth. It adds a year to its age on every following January 1.

Please Follow the Hostess to the Life Raft

INSTRUCTOR Lou Tournoy, left foreground, gives in-the-raft instructions on ditching procedures to hostesses training for Trans World Airlines international flights.

UP AND IN — Over and over again, as airline hostesses training for international flights practice ditching and rescue techniques until routines become second-nature to them.

Graciousness goes hand-in-hand with safety know-how as "must" knowledge for air hostesses flights.

Pictured here, life raft training techniques for Trans-World Airlines hostesses preparing for international flight duty. These ditching lessons were given in a Kansas City Athletic Club pool.

Each of the big planes carries seven 150-pound, 25-passenger rafts, self-inflatable. Supplies include flares, rations, water desalting equipment, first aid material, marker dye, shark repellent, books on religion and survival, a two-way radio and automatic, battery-powered lights on life jackets and rafts.

RAFT weighs a hefty 150 pounds. Once in the water it inflates in 8 to 10 seconds from bottles of carbon dioxide gas.

CANOPY for sun protection and collection of rain water is raised over raft during a practice session.

Shirley Taylor Bride Of John James Hofer

St. Jacob's United Church of Christ was the scene of the candlelight wedding Thursday evening uniting in marriage Miss Shirley May Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orrie Taylor of N. Beaver St., Lisbon, and John James Hofer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Gauding of Leetonia.

The Rev. William V. Ring performed the double ring ceremony at 8:30 o'clock in the presence of the immediate families and friends before the altar enhanced in the light of seven-branch candelabra, with palms and vases of white gladioli and carnations.

Organ selections of nuptial music was presented by Miss Geneva Zimmerman of Salem.

The bride, given in marriage by her parents, was escorted by her father. Designed in classic simplicity of white peau de soie, the bride's ballerina-length gown was fashioned with a fitted bodice, long-tapered sleeves and, complementing the scoop neckline, a single string of pearls, the gift of her parents. An organza open crown of sequins held her silk illusion veil, edged in lace and she carried a crescent bouquet of pink roses, showered with stephanitis.

Mrs. Ronald Rutter of Columbus was her sister's matron of honor. She wore an aqua silk sheath dress and a matching open crown held her flutter veil. Her flowers were a cascade arrangement of yellow baby chrysanthemums.

Richard Gostey of Lisbon served the bridegroom as best man.

The bride's mother was attributed in a blue silk floral print dress with white accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a cocoa brown and white silk dress, white accessories. The mothers wore corsages of white carnations.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church fellowship room. Miss Judy Hofer, sister of the bridegroom, registered the guests.

The bride's table, before a backdrop of pink, decorated with wedding bells, greenery and summer flowers was overlaid in white Japanese silk. In the center, a three-tiered wedding cake, topped by miniature bride and bridegroom, was flanked by garlands of summer flowers. Presiding were Miss Cherie De Jane, Miss Mary Ketchum and Miss Hofer.

The bride graduated from Lisbon High School in 1963, is attending the Kent State extension classes in Salem, and is employed as secretary at the Deming Co. in Salem.

The bridegroom, a 1962 graduate of Leetonia High School, attends Salem Trades School and is employed as apprentice machinist at Fordees Corp., Leetonia.

For the wedding trip to Niagara Falls, Canada, the bride wore a blue summer floral print dress, white accessories and a corsage of roses.

The bridegroom expects to enter the U. S. Army Reserve for six months duty, during which the bride will reside with her parents.

By HELOISE CRUSE

By HELOISE CRUSE
Dear Heloise: The most beautiful coverlets I have are made with two sheets.

I buy a striped or floral pattern for one side and plain color for the other side (82x108 inch). First, I rip out the hems and pin the sheets together and use, then quilt it on my sewing baste them in place, and mark the quilting pattern I want to machine.

These sheet-coverlets are long enough to put up over the pillows, or one can use matching pillow cases.

If one wants to make a dust ruffle for the bed, there is enough material in one sheet for this purpose.

Sheets are the least expensive way to decorate a bedroom beautifully.

DOE.
DEAR HELOISE: I keep a brown and a black felt-tip ink marker in my shoe box for my summer spectator shoes, which are brown and white or black and white. After using the white polish, I use the marker for the colored portions.

The markers are easier to handle than polish on a rag and the shine seems to last.

Here's to prettier and neater spectator shoes this summer!

DEAR HELOISE: I cut the plastic bags (from the dry cleaners) along one side, and spread them on the table when serving a seafood dinner (shrimp in the shell, etc.).

Georgianne Sexton Bride of Edward Wolf

A nuptial ceremony Wednesday evening united in marriage Miss Georgianne Sexton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Sexton of E. Chestnut St., Lisbon, and Sgt. Edward Wolf, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. Wolf of Fairfield Road, Lisbon.

The double ring ceremony, performed by the Rev. Paul T. Gerrard, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, took place in a summer setting of white flowers before the fireplace of the bride's home.

Miss Ruth Ann Gerrard presented the nuptial music, "Because" and the traditional "Wedding March."

Given in marriage by her parents and escorted by her father, the bride wore a gown of white silk organza, designed with a fitted bodice of lace, a Sabrina neckline and long-tapered sleeves. Highlighting the floor-length dome skirt, were appliques of Alencon lace and sequins. Her veil of silk illusion was held by a crown of crystals and pearls, and she carried a cascade bouquet of white asters.

Miss Nancy Yvonne Sexton served as maid of honor for her sister. Her floorlength gown was held by a crown of crystals and pearls, and she carried a cascade bouquet of white asters.

For going away, the bride wore a beige and blue linen ensemble, white accessories and a corsage of Talisman roses.

Clark A. Wolf of Lisbon served his brother as best man, and Charles Alderman, cousin of the bride, was usher.

A reception for friends and relatives was held following the ceremony at the bride's home. Miss Pamela Wolf, sister of the bridegroom, registered the guests from Mt. Dora, Fla., Baden, Pa., East Liverpool, Poland, Salem and Lisbon.

The bride's table, overlaid in white linen filigree, was centered by a three-tiered wedding cake, topped with miniature bride and bridegroom. Miss Linda Neil, Mrs. Miles Ketchum and Miss Judy Chapman, all of Lisbon, presided at the serving.

The bride is a 1963 graduate of Lisbon High School and attended Capitol University.

The bridegroom, a 1959 graduate of Lisbon High School, is in the army, stationed in San Antonio, Texas, where the newlyweds plan to reside.

Beauty for the asking

By Josephine Kaercher, Beauty Consultant
MERLE NORMAN COSMETICS STUDIO

What is fashion's newest favorite? The wrist-length sleeve.

And with the wrist-length sleeve, your hands—and your manicured fingernails—will be sharply in focus this season. Your hands and your nails not only can, but should, be inspection-perfect at all times.

Difficult, you say, to keep your nails looking just-manicured seven days a week?

Not at all! There's a lovely manicure kit that will help you give yourself an "instant manicure"—or almost.

First, select the color of polish you want to wear. Shake the bottle well to be sure color, oils, and other elements are well blended. Then, remove your old polish with the non-smear remover that wipes off with a single stroke, from cuticle to nail tip.

Next, file your nail tips smooth, rounding them gently, preferably with an emery board. Wash your hands with warm soapy water. Dry thoroughly.

Now apply pearl base. It's so good for helping your nail enamel adhere, as well as stay fresh longer. Apply first to the thumb of one hand, then, in sequence, from little finger to forefinger.

Next, brush on nail enamel, in the same sequence, one hand, then the other. Finish with sealer.

For early fall, fashion says blend, don't match your nail enamel to your lipstick. This new look gives you marvelous leeway to use lighter or darker than lipstick shades to suit your taste and fancy.

If, through habit, you've been sticking to creme nail enamels, experiment with luminous polishes for an exciting change of pace. The luminous enamels look so pretty with your dressy blacks and dark summer chiffons.

Pretty nails need pretty hands to show them off. Use hand & body lotion liberally and often.

If you'd like to see some of this season's newest and most beautiful nail enamels mated with gorgeous new lipstick shades, please be my guest.

Just phone me or write to me, care of this newspaper and let me treat you to a free hour of beauty—and a complimentary make-up. Take advantage of beauty for the asking.

Secret Woman Confesses She's Harding's 'Love Child'

GLENDAL, Calif. (AP)—A Glendale housewife and mother of three has yielded up a secret kept for more than 20 years: She is the illegitimate daughter of Warren Gamaliel Harding, 29th president of the United States.

Mrs. Henry E. Blaesing, 46, speaking in a tired voice, said she is the late president's daughter by a mistress, Nan Britton.

"I've talked to so many reporters today," she said. "I haven't even had a chance to talk to my sons to find out what they think of all this."

News stories about recently discovered love letters from Harding to another mistress, Mrs. James Phillips of Marion, Ohio, referred to Nan Britton and to the "love child" Miss Britton said she bore out of wedlock.

The Los Angeles Herald Examiner found Mrs. Blaesing living in this suburban community.

Miss Britton, now 67, lives in Evanston, Ill.

"We are very close," said Mrs. Blaesing. "She's a wonderful person."

Mrs. Blaesing, listed as Elizabeth Ann Christian on her birth certificate, was born Oct. 22, 1919, in Asbury Park, N.J. Harding, then a U. S. senator, was 53, married, childless and just one year away from the presidency.

In 1921 Elizabeth Ann was adopted in Chicago by her mother's sister, Elizabeth, and her husband, Scott Willis. They also live in Glendale now.

"I was the most logical one to adopt her," says Mrs. Willis. "I had no children, and that way we could keep her in the family. She thought we were her parents until her mother took her back when she was seven."

Mrs. Blaesing recalls:

"My mother told me when I was very young that President Harding was my father. He died in 1923. I don't remember ever seeing him. I believe, though, that my mother sent him photographs of me and my mother told me that he sometimes inquired about me."

Mrs. Blaesing says knowledge of who her father was created no problems for her.

"I had a normal childhood," she says, "but then, I didn't go around telling people about it."

She continued:

"I do recall that when she (her mother) spoke of President Harding she always talked of him in glowing terms. Mother wasn't bitter. All through the years she never spoke badly of him. It was all love, adoration and affection. She told me she loved him very much. She still does."

Mrs. Blaesing was married on Sept. 18, 1938, in Chicago.

The Blaesings moved to California at the end of World War II and settled in Glendale three and a half years ago. Blaesing is manager of an office building. They have three sons, 17, 13 and 10.

Until Thursday, Mrs. Blaesing says, only her closest friends and a few members of the family have known of her parentage. Even her sons hadn't know.

CITED AFTER CRASH

Ronald I. Irey, 24, of 1203 Jennings Ave. was cited by city police at 6:34 p.m. Thursday for failing to stop in the assured clear distance after he was involved in a two-car mishap on Rt. 14, about 300 feet north of W. State St.

According to police, Hickrie H. Gidley, 23, of 115 N. Ellsworth Ave., headed north on Rt. 14, had stopped to make a left turn, when his vehicle was struck in the rear by a car driven by Irey.

Irey forfeited a $15 bond.

Deaths Funerals

Mrs. Susie Cart

Funeral arrangements are pending at the Davidson Funeral Home in Struthers for Mrs. Susie Cart, 80, of RD 3, Canfield, who died at 12:55 a.m. at Salem City Hospital where she had been a surgical patient since June 19.

Mrs. Ralph Renick

Funeral services were held today at St. James Catholic Church in Miami, Fla., for Mrs. Elizabeth Jane Renick, 35, of 14040 N. W. 3rd Ave., Miami, formerly of Salem, who died at 11:45 p.m. Monday at Jackson Memorial Hospital in Miami after an illness of six months.

Born in Salem, she was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Henry, who now live at Lake Placid, Fla. She and her parents moved to Miami when she was 12 years of age. On June 5, 1949, she married Ralph Renick, who also survives.

Also surviving are six children and a sister, Mrs. Barbara Collar of Miami.

LeRoy A. Mather

LeRoy Arthur Mather, age two, of 363 Newgarden Ave. died suddenly of complications at his home at 10 p.m. Thursday.

Born March 30, 1962, in Salem, he was the son of Blaine and Julia Silvers Mather, who survive.

Also surviving are a sister, Cynthia, of the home; and two grandmothers, Mrs. Mary Silvers and Mrs. Ruby Mather of Salem.

Services will be at 2 p. m. Monday at the Arbaugh-Pearce Funeral Home, with Rev. William Longworth officiating. Burial will be in Hope Cemetery. Friends may call Sunday evening at the funeral home.

Mrs. Hubert Diehl

CANFIELD — Mrs. Pearl J. Diehl, 61, of 226 Cross St. died of cancer at 6:45 a.m. today at South Side Hospital in Youngstown, where she had been a patient eight weeks.

Born Nov. 11, 1902, in Canfield, she was the daughter of Allen and Lulu Spaulding Manchester. A life resident of the area, she was a member of the Canfield First United Presbyterian Church and Ellsworth Extension Club.

Surviving are her husband, Hubert, whom she married July 12, 1947; one daughter, Mrs. John Craig of Canfield; two sons, William A. Feisley of Canfield and James L. Feisley of West Alexandria; her mother, Mrs. Manchester of Canfield, and nine grandchildren.

Services will be at 1:30 p.m. Monday at the First United Presbyterian Church with Rev. Oscar Person officiating. Burial will be in Ellsworth Cemetery. Friends may call from 7 to 9 p.m. Sunday at the Williams Funeral Home. The body will lie in state Monday at the church from 12:30 p.m. until time of the service.

Economy

tration economists in January. They forecast then a 1964 total of $623 billion. The figure last year was $563.9 billion.

Wirtz said non-farm employment hit a record high of 59.1 million in June, an increase of nearly 2 million from May and record weekly overtime work of 3.2 hours boosted earnings to $103.50 per week, another new high.

Although unemployment rose to 5.3 per cent of the labor force in June, compared with 5.1 per cent in May, the Labor Department said this was considerably better than the 5.7 figure of June 1963.

In mythology, the Fates spin and cut the thread of life. Of the Three fates, Clotho was the spinner, Lachesis decided how long it was to be and Atropos cut the thread with shears.

'ROASTIN' EARS' SEASON. Nearly everyone, including 4-year-old Diana Robinson (above), enjoys delicious corn-on-the-cob, now that fresh corn is being picked on district farms. Diana, from Adrain, Mich., is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Dean of 1357 N. Lincoln Ave.

Sheppard

"hell." He said he had tried to stay in good mental and physical condition and had continued his professional reading but . . .

"Until Lee Bailey and my fiancée came along, except for my family, I had lost my faith in humanity," adding, "I've lost the 10 best years of any man's life."

Mrs. Tebbenjohanns entered the Sheppard story in January 1963 when she said she had been corresponding with Sheppard and the two planned to marry when he was released.

If he is cleared in a retrial, Sheppard said he might join the Peace Corps or perhaps do clinic work in India. He also hinted he might stay in the Cleveland area.

But he said there had to be time for track workouts, fishing, hunting and for his 17-year-old son Chip. The youth was to have been best man at Sheppard wedding.

Sheppard startled newsmen at the motel when, in borrowed swimming trunks, he sported a perfect suntan. He quickly explained that he acquired the sunbaked look while directing outdoor recreation at the penitentiary. He also confided that he tried to stay in shape by doing 500 to 600 pushups each night with his cellmate.

A long fight still remains for Sheppard but his 10-year-old determination to prove his innocence has not lessened.

Fatality

struck the Simon car broadside after the elderly man "crashed" a red light, the Patrol said. Grossen was unhurt. Both autos were considerably damaged.

Two Beloit area cars collided Thursday at 4:35 p.m. on Route 62, two miles west of Damascus, but neither motorist was injured.

Cars operated by Louis Citino, 17, of RD 1, Beloit, and Jesse Galbreath, 28, of RD 2, Beloit, were eastbound when Galbreath slowed to make a right turn. The youth tried to stop to avoid a read-end mishap, but instead ran off the right side and struck the Galbreath auto. No citation was issued.

Steele Funeral Monday

Services for Steele will be held Monday at 1:30 p.m. at the Van Dyke Funeral Home in East Palestine, with the Rev. Thomas Hammerton of the East Palestine Methodist Church in charge.

Burial will be in Glenview Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home Sunday from 2-4 and 7-9 p.m.

Steele was born Nov. 10, 1923, in Wilkesville, Pa., the son of the late Warren S. Steele and Eliza May Steele of East Palestine.

He had served in the Army in World War II and was a member of the East Palestine VFW post and the Sportsman's Club. He had lived in New Waterford since 1950.

Besides his mother, he is survived by his wife, Mary Bratt Steele, whom he married Dec. 25, 1942, five sons, Elmer, Thomas, Robert, Harry and John, and three daughters, Patricia, Marilyn and Peggy, all of the home.

Jaycees' Shindig Enjoyed Thursday

Twenty-five Jaycees fumed in summer heat, frolicked in the water and feasted on fish at the annual membership night Thursday evening when two new members, James Roberts and Mark Cross, were admitted at Barnett's restaurant.

Members of the Salem Junior Chamber of Commerce and guests dined on fried fish, swam in the pool and heard two top district Jaycee leaders speak at the yearly function.

Jack Hales of East Liverpool, representing District 20 and past president of the Pottery city Jaycees, explained the functions of the district organization in the Jaycee movement.

Sharing the rostrum was spirited speaker, John Bennecosa of Alliance, past president of that city's Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Other outside special guests were Keith Goodman of East Liverpool and James Williams of Alliance, national director. Guests from Salem were James Stark, Fred Baker, Vern Lutz and Charles Long.

The Mentor Junior Track meet, at which Salem will be represented by 38 first-place winning youngsters Saturday, and the charcoal lighter fund-raising project were discussed. President Robert Zimmerman said more transportation is needed to haul the young tracksters.

and in that way was able to have a good sleep."

He lived on strawberries, wintergreen and water from stagnant pools.

"The nights were so dark and cold. I could hear the queerest noises. I thought a lot about bears. And then one day I saw two. I was scared and I guess they were as scared as I, because when I ran away they ran the other way."

Finally, Donn came to a brook. From his scout training he knew that if he followed it, he'd eventually come to a river. As he hiked along he found a telephone line. The line led him to the east branch.

After a few days' rest in a Bangor Hospital, Donn had a hero's welcome.

Later he was a guest of President Franklin D. Roosevelt at Hyde Park, N.Y., and the two exchanged autographs.

Donn became a seabee in World War II. After graduation from the University of Georgia, he elected to make the Army his career.

Today Maj. Donn C. Fendler is in another rough spot. He is a special forces advisor in South Viet Nam, on his second tour of duty in that war-torn nation. As a specialist in guerrilla warfare, the 37-year-old graying father of four again risks his life daily.

ATTENDING CONVENTION

Linda Wilms, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Wilms of Franklin Square, is attending the 1964 national convention of the Future Homemakers of America in Chicago.

The senior at Leetonia High was chosen to participate in a discussion group there. She is among 3,000 delegates and advisers from all states, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

Budget Is Adopted At Summitville

SUMMITVILLE — A budget of $8,367.12 was approved by Village Council at a meeting Thursday at the Township Hall.

The figure marks an increase of $515 over the 1964 allotment.

Mayor Ernest Phillips reported that he has received a traffic control signal permit for the flashing caution signal recently erected in the village. The permit was issued by the director of highways at Columbus.

Purchase of a load of cold-pack material for the repair of Spearman St. and Nittany Dr. was approved. Council also okayed the cutting of brush which obstructs view at a turn on a section of Township Road 846 within the village limits, near the overhead railroad bridge.

Announcement was made that the General Telephone Co. has installed a public telephone booth near Hays Service Station. Council had requested the placing of the facility in 1961.

Raymond Arsuffi, general chairman of the Civic Improvement League, announced that the league will sponsor a round and square dance from 9 to 12 p.m. Wednesday on the basketball-court with music by The Twilighters of Summitville. Refreshments will be served.

Bills totaling $218 were approved.

Next meeting will be Aug. 20.

Satellites

United States had orbited three satellites with one rocket. The record is four in one shot set by another Atlas-Agena last year.

The pygmy satellite was injected into its pre-planned path shortly after the three satellites separated from the booster today.

Because of an intricate flight plan intended to station the twin Sentry satellites at the high point of the course, officials will not know until about 10:30 a.m. Sunday whether the launching is completely successful.

Small rockets aboard the pair are to arrest them at widely scattered points 63,000 miles up — one about 18 hours after launching, the other about 37 hours later.

The Sentries, each weighing 492 pounds, are forerunners of a network of satellites that will peer electronically more than 200 million miles into space to discover if the Soviet Union or any other nation cheats on the partial nuclear test ban treaty by exploding a rocket-borne bomb far from earth.

The 4.5-pound pygmy, which rode along as a hitchhiker, was to aid the study by measuring electrons during wide-swinging sweeps through the Van Allen radiation belts.

Officials said knowledge of electron characteristics in the belts that extend 40,000 miles above the earth would be valuable in noting changes if a nuclear explosion occurred outside the atmosphere.

In a similar manner, the two to draw a radiation chart of space, including what happens when their sensitive instruments are struck by surges of charged particles from a solar flare or cosmic ray shower. With this knowledge, operational satellites would be able quickly to differentiate between natural radiation and that created by a sneak nuclear burst.

Officials of the Atomic Energy Commission said the pair of Sentries could be used as a limited operational tool, just as two earlier satellites in the series have been utilized. The initial watchdog satellites were hurled into orbit last Oct. 16, just six days after the nuclear test ban treaty was signed by more than 100 nations, including the United States and Russia. France did not sign.

The treaty prohibits nuclear testing in the atmosphere, under water or in space, but does not forbid underground detonations.

Elwood T. Baker, a Brooklyn businessman, developed the game of gin rummy in 1909.

Riot Erupts After Officer Kills Negro

NEW YORK (AP) — Police Commissioner Michael J. Murphy promises a "thorough and impartial investigation" of the fatal shooting of a Negro youth by an off-duty white police lieutenant who said the youth came at him with a knife.

The killing Thursday in a Manhattan street near a public school touched off violence among 300 teen-agers, mostly Negro, and 75 steel-helmeted police.

"Come on, shoot another Nigger," shouted one of several weeping Negro girls.

The crowd taunted police and hurled school books, bottles, cans and stones. Patrolman Edward Seabrook, 35, the only Negro policeman there, was hit on the head by a can and was taken to a hospital.

The police and the crowd surged back and forth in East 76th street for about an hour before the crowd was broken up. The dead youth was 15-year-old James Powell, one of three Negroes Police Lt. Thomas Gilligan said he found chasing a building superintendent into an apartment building.

Police said the trouble began when the white building superintendent, cleaning the sidewalk with a hose, sprayed the three Negro youths, who then chased him into his building.

They said the three youths and the superintendent engaged in a heated argument and there reportedly were racial slurs.

Gilligan showed his badge, police said, and ordered the boys to stop banging garbage can lids and move on.

Police Inspector Joseph Coyle said the lieutenant "fired in defense of himself" when Powell came at Gilligan with a pocket knife and failed to heed a warning to stop. Coyle said the knife was found in the gutter.

Auditor

fund is set up for thirty-seven per cent of income tax revenue, this year with an estimated $99,000 to be transferred to the fund this year.

"As of June 30 the cash balance in the fund was $51,092.77, with estimated income for the balance of the year of $55,000, making a total of $106,092.77. To date there has been appropriated from this amount $79,920.37 for street improvements, plus $2,227 for a contract to be signed for street lights on W. State St., making a total of encumbrances of $82,147.37 and leaving a balance of $23,945.40.

"The amount of $5,049 (the original sale price of the land to SAIDC) will not be put into the general or the capital improvement funds, the Water Department will be credited with this amount, so the entire cost of $20,933 will be paid from Income Tax money.

"Why should the city use money from this fund for property they already owned, if it was so valuable to the city, why did they sell it? SAIDC wanted to buy it and they did, now they want to sell it back to the city at a price that will reimburse them for their expenditure.

"The clearing of this land could have been done by the city in a legal manner by advertising for bids and entering into a contract to have the work done.

"Mr. Joseph also said that my figures were misleading. The truth is, and I have records that the storm sewer cost was not '$15,000.00 roughly' as he put it, the actual cost was $10,486.56. I feel the taxpayers should know how their money is being spent and why.

"The city will have invested $20,933 to hold until SAIDC sees fit to buy it back, if ever, at a price of $15,894. By that time the land may have to be cleared again.

"I think this amount invested in repairing our city streets would be wiser and of much more benefit to the taxpayers."

75 at Meeting of County 4-H Group

Seventy-five persons attended the Columbiana County 4-H Junior Leadership Club meeting Thursday night at St. George's parish hall in Lisbon, according to Robert Lewis, county extension agent in 4-H work.

Reports were given by Stephanie Thomas, Salem RD 2, on the Ohio forestry camp she attended; Nancy Lowmiller, Minerva RD 2 and Ron Freer, East Palestine RD 1, who attended the state junior leadership camp. Rebecca McGary, Minerva RD 2, reported on the Ohio pork queen contest.

Twelve guests from St. Joseph County, Mich., who are staying with Columbiana families in the "Little IFYE" program, gave remarks and showed slides of their trip last year to the national 4-H center in Washington, D. C.

Following the business meeting, square dancing was held, with Tom Rudebeck, Leetonia RD 1, as caller.

Plans

Creagor of Canfield.

Capt. Simonds will portray Col. Bouquet with a troop of mounted cavalry.

Tom Pike of Guilford will lead the buckskin rendezvous troops and Harry Cline of Wells-ville will be the leader of the Indian group.

The following is the schedule for the two-day affair:

July 25 — 1 p.m. members of buckskin group and colonial troops will leave fairgrounds for an area east of Lisbon. Indian group will meet at fairgrounds and leave for area southeast of Lisbon, and all will march through the square to the fairgrounds to set up camps.

At 6:30 p.m. the groups will meet at McKinley School, parade through the square and will disband in the vicinity of the American Legion home.

All participants and families have been invited to a "hoe-down" to begin at the V.F.W. hall at 9 p.m.

Sunday at 1 p.m. will be the briefing, and at 7:30 p. m. all units will form in their respective battle areas, with the battle scheduled a 8 p.m. in front of the fairgrounds grandstand.

County 4-H Group To Visit Michigan

Nine Columbiana County 4-H members, along with three 4-H advisers, will travel Sunday to St. Joseph County, Mich., to stay with 4-H members and parents for one week, according to Robert Lewis, county extension agent in 4-H work.

Making the trip will be Ron Frischkorn and Lois McCollam, Wells-ville RD 1; Kaye Porter, East Liverpool RD 1; Stephanie Thomas, Salem RD 2; Sue Wick-ersham, East Rochester RD 1; Allan Bloor, Leetonia RD 1; Janet Jenkins, Rogers; James Miller, Columbiana RD 2; Rosa Berchtold and Mrs. Catherine Berchtold, Columbiana and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Baker, Lisbon RD 5.

Nine 4-H members and three adult leaders from St. Joseph County will complete their week's visit in Columbiana County Saturday in the "Little IFYE" program.

With Patients

Thomas Moore, three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Moore of Damascus, is in "fair" condition at Salem City Hospital with a possible mild concussion. He was admitted to the hospital at 10 p.m. Thursday after he fell from a wagon onto a concrete drive while visiting friends.

Robert Garwood, nine-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Garwood of Leetonia, was admitted to Salem City Hospital with a fractured left arm at 9:50 p.m. Thursday after he fell off a pony at his home. He was released from the hospital this morning.

Two boys were treated and released Thursday at Alliance City Hospital following separate miscellaneous accidents.

Guy Forst, seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Forst of Deerfield, was treated at 5:35 p.m. after he lacerated his right thumb on a door.

Seven-year-old Daniel Jefferys, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Jefferys of RD 1, North Venton, was treated at 6:25 p.m. for a lacerated right leg which he injured on broken glass.

weakly stumbled into conflict, timidly refusing to draw our own lines against aggression, deceitfully refusing to tell even our own people of our own full participation, and tragically letting our finest men die on battlefield unmarked by purpose, pride or the prospect of victory."

"We are at war in Viet Nam," he said, "yet the President who is commander in chief of our forces refuses to say whether or not victory is the objective. His secretary of defense continues to mislead and misinform the American people."

In introducing Goldwater to the convention, former Vice President Richard M. Nixon said there were some who said "the polls are against us, the Communists are against us, President Johnson is strong and the Republicans are weak."

He drew cheers when he said Goldwater and Miller are going to prove in November that all of these are wrong.

SENTENCED TO JAIL

Harry B. Hersman, 51, of Youngstown was fined $150 and costs and sentenced to three days in jail by Mayor Dean B. ranmer Thursday on charges of driving while under the influence of alcohol. He was cited by police at 3:45 a.m. Thursday on E. State St.

TV-Radio Today

By ALAN GILL
Spectacle

The National Broadcasting Company, the Columbia Broadcasting System, and the American Broadcasting Company have been eating their way through a $7 million tab at San Francisco's Cow Palace this week, and I suppose every nickel of it shows. For a few dollars more, though, I understand that the Italian movie producer, Dino de Laurentiis, is making a movie called "The Bible." It costs nearly as much to photograph the five sessions of a GOP convention in our times as it does to reconstruct the six days of creation.

But then Adam and Eve were not beset with creepy-peepies. Sodom and Gomorrah were not constantly interrupting their revels for interviews with Frank McGee and Martin Agronsky. And the Noah of this particular convention—who is either (1) Barry Goldwater or (2) William Scranton, depending upon your point of view or partiality for punning—was not satisfied with taking on the delegates two by two. It was the dozens that counted, the scores, the multitudes.

THE UNFLAPPABLE DE-monor of the TV anchor men through hour after hour of speechifying, prognostication, and analysis has been an awesome spectacle; and if they had all been present at that first great flood, I'm sure they would have covered the storm warnings, the building and boarding of the ark, and the 40 days and 40 nights of rain with the aplomb of a British major walking with furred umbrella through a London fog.

"Eric, you've been watching this story develop, haven't you, for sometime?"

"Well, Walter, I suppose I've been through 14 floods by now and they all eventually fall into to much the same pattern of cause and effect. I think we can expect to see a good deal more rain before we'll discern that faint glow on the horizon. And it will be six months anyhow before Ararat."

"David, what think you on this business of the ark?"

"It seems strangely ship-shape, Chet, despite the company of dodo birds and pachyderms, gilas, and kualas, and the fact that the captain claims for himself a ripe old age of 600. There have been 600-year-old patriarchs from time immemorial, but they haven't been given to building ocean liners and assembling menageries. They've been content with stringing beads or playing in the sand. Our man's obviously of a different stripe."

"THIS IS SANDER Vanocur, down here at the ark with Shem, Ham, and Japheth, the sons of Noah who have had a good deal to do with the building. Tell me, Shem, how many cubits would you say the ark has reached on this latest count?"

"The length from bow to stern, Mr. Vanocur, is, I feel sure, 150 cubits at least, if we were to sail today. By Wednesday, we should have the necessary 300 or over."

"And it's all good gopher wood?"

"Hah, hah, last time I looked it was, anyway."

"Howard, I suppose you heard the report that the Lord has said to Noah, 'Go into the ark, you and your household, for I have seen that you are righteous before me in this generation, haven't you?'"

"YES, INDEED, ED, and I think the significant word in the message is 'righteous.' We would all, I'm sure, be hard put to think of another man of our times upon whom the word could sit so well. It remains to be seen, of course, as to whether er righteousness will be the sole criterion for a birth on the ark or whether there will be a peremptory challenge or two at the gangplank. Noah is running a tight ship and I doubt that he will take the risk of allowing potential mutineers in his crew. But who can say, Ed, that another man is righteous or not righteous? Only the confrontations of the next few hours will give the answer."

"Let me interrupt you, Howard, for a moment. We must switch to Bill Lawrence in the stern of the ark where he will discuss the latest developments with Noah's daughter."

"Good night, David."

"Good night, Chet."

CAR KILLS BICYCLIST — MEDINA, Ohio (AP)—Douglas Ginter, 15, of Lodi was knocked from his bicycle by an automobile Thursday and killed. The accident occurred on a county road a half-mile southwest of nearby Lodi.

The Highway Patrol said Joseph Perko, 67, of West Salem, driver of the car which struck the bicycle from behind, was charged with traffic manslaughter.

CRASH FATAL TO WOMAN — LEESBURG, Ohio (AP)—A two-car collision on U.S. 62 at the southern edge of this Highland County village Thursday killed an 80-year-old woman and injured three other persons.

Dead is Mrs. Myrtle L. Tucker of Winchester. Her daughter, Mrs. Christine T. Martin of Wintersville, was reported in serious condition at a Hillsboro hospital, along with her husband, the Rev. Calvin C. Martin, 47.

IT'S A STRIKE — This is what the designers say will be the stylish bowling costume on the moon. Rusty Anderson models a far-out ensemble at the International Bowling Fashion Show in New York. She's holding a transparent bowling ball.

Player Tip Helps Nicklaus, But Nichols Leads PGA

Young Golfer Sets Record

Palmer Cards 68; Hogan Shoots 70

By JIM BECKER
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—You can't say that Gary Player isn't earning his keep over at Jack Nicklaus' house—and it's pretty steep keeping.

Player, who is Jack's house guest at the PGA golf tournament this week, paused between efforts to eat Nicklaus out of house and home, and gave his host a hint that straightened out his swing.

That's a little like adding an extra story to the Empire State building, or an extra steak on little Gary's plate.

But Jack says he can use all the help he can get this week. He's trying to defend his PGA championship before the home folk, and grab the last spot in the golf World Series.

Meanwhile, Player, known as the South African locust, is setting a grocery list record. Arnold Palmer is dropping over at night and trouncing Nicklaus at snooker, and baby-faced Bobby Nichols is leading after the first round of the PGA with a record 64.

Nichols' round, achieved with the aid of a $5 putter he found on the back shelf in the pro shop in Anchorage, Ky., was also a record for the revamped 6,851-yard Columbus Country Club course.

Nichols, who comes from Louisville, went to Texas on a football scholarship and wound up playing golf instead, was sharper with his bargain basement putter than Palmer was with the snooker stick.

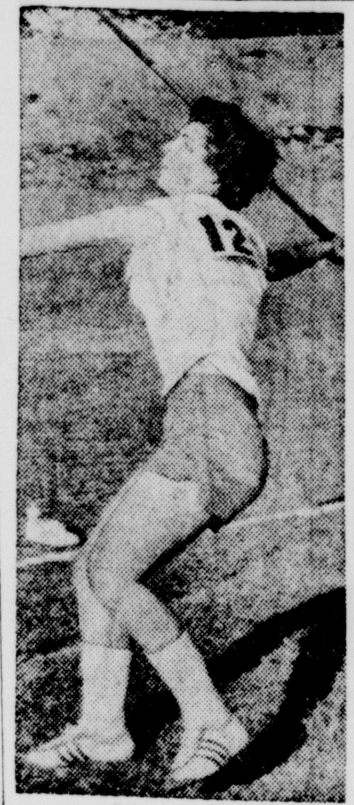

He finished with a three stroke edge on Nicklaus, who had his best opening round in a major championship all year with a 67. Mike Soucek also had 67.

Palmer had a menacing 68, along with five others, including former British Open champion Bob Charles, the New Zealand left-hander, Billy Casper and Don January.

Ben Hogan, the 51-year-old, two-time champion and all-time great had 70, even par, along with Player, and Tony Lema, the new British Open King, had 71. U.S. Open champion Ken Venturi was at 72, not out of it but needing to get moving.

Ball playing goes back to prehistoric times Homer and other early writers reported that the ancient Greeks found their recreation in ball playing. Isaiah wrote: "He will surely turn and toss thee like a ball."

A form of ball game is portrayed on many Egyptian monuments. Though the Romans usually dislike participation sports.

Tribe, Yanks Start Series Tonight

Indians' 10th-Inning Rally Knocks Off Kansas City 12-9

NEW YORK (AP)—The Cleveland Indians, yet to beat New York in eight meetings this season, have a twofold task in their upcoming series with the champions—cool off a Yankee hot streak and pull out of a slump of their own.

The Bombers have won six of their last seven games and are only a half game behind American League-leading Baltimore. The Tribe has lost 15 of its last 19.

Cleveland will open its four-game series tonight with Pedro Ramos (4-6) pitching against either Roland Sheldon (2-1) or Stan Williams (1-1). The Indians made their best showing against the Yankees last Sunday, a rain-shortened 2-2 tie. Ramos and Williams were the principals.

Cleveland scored seven runs before anyone was out in the first inning against Kansas City Thursday, but had to come from behind for a 12-9 victory in 10 innings.

Tommy John gave up five runs to the A's in the first inning, and Gary Bell yielded three in the third. The Tribe won it with three runs in the 10th.

The winning rally started with a single by Joe Azcue, who had homered in the eighth. Azcue was thrown out trying to steal, but Larry Brown singled and scored on Woodie Held's double.

On a chop single by Don McMahon, Held was tagged out when he rounded third base too far. But Dick Howser walked and Vic Davalillo doubled home two runs.

McMahon, making his 40th appearance, was credited with his fifth victory in six decisions. He also was the winner over the A's Tuesday night. McMahon worked the final three frames, allowing only one hit and fanning three.

The Indians' offense was in high gear. They collected 16 hits, three each by Azcue and Brown. O'Donoghue for three straight hits after Howser walked in the first. The assault continued on Jose Santiago with two more singles, a walk and a hit baseman.

But John, who hasn't won since May 22, gave up three hits and three walks before being replaced by Bell, with the Indians ahead 7-5.

The A's went ahead, 8-7, in the third on four hits and a sacrifice fly. Wayne Causey homered in the sixth off Ted Abernathy.

In the eighth, after the homer by Azcue, Howser drove in the tying run with a single.

Fans Flock To Adams In Public Links

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer
MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—You can put Yates Adams down as one of the most colorful golfers the game ever has seen.

The 27-year-old dental salesman from High Point, N.C., has reached Friday's 36-hole semifinals of the National Public Links tournament at Francis Gross course with a wildly cheering Adams Army behind him.

Adams is a rawboned 6-foot-7, talks a blue streak and peers out from big glasses.

He would be conspicuous anywhere, even if he didn't wear brown plaid Bermuda shorts and a white tee-shirt.

He has only nine clubs—all battered, including a wedge that is as smooth as a tablecloth. The talkative Adams insists he hasn't the money to know where his next hamburger is coming from and he buys one golf ball at a time. He plays with it—whether it is cut or not—until it is lost.

Even a caveman would be able to swing a club better than Adams. He cocks his legs better than he does his wrists, and he lets go like a discus thrower. His follow-through brings the club twirling over his head. But the ball drills out there 280.

On the greens, Adams, at times creeps up on the ball, his putter wagging and taps the ball without taking a stance. And it goes in.

In Thursday's quarter-finals, Adams defeated defending champion Bob Lunn of San Francisco 1 up.

"If I never saw it I wouldn't believe it," said Lunn.

"I didn't even know Lunn was last year's winner, said Adams.

"I just go out to play. As for pressure I don't know what that is. The only time I may have it is thinking if my clubs will stay together until I finish this tournament—which is the first major one I've ever been in."

In the semifinals Adams will face Bill McDonald, a music major at Washburn University in Topeka, Kan., where his father is baseball coach. The other match sends 20-year-old Norwegian born Arne Dokka of Sherman Oaks, Calif., against Dean Wilson, 31, an Omaha Postal clerk.

Browns Invite 7 Rookies To Training Camp

HIRAM, Ohio (AP)—Seventeen rookies have been invited to the Cleveland Browns' regular training camp opening here Monday.

They passed the initial test at the National Football League club's rookie and quarterback training camp, which closed Thursday.

Three highly prized rookies have left to join the College All-Star squad. They are Paul Warfield of Ohio State, being groomed as a flanker, linebacker Billy Truax of Louisiana State and placekicker Dick Van Raaphorst of Ohio State.

Others who have looked good in rookie camp are Dave Raimoy of Michigan, Lowell Caylor of Miami and Don Stupica of Xavier. They will be trying to displace veteran defensive backs. Guard Jim Higgins of Xavier and Bowling Green's Ed Bettridge, a linebacker, also have performed well.

Five rookies were cut: Halfbacks Clarence Jones of Adams State and Len Burnett of Oregon, center Leo Bland and defensive tackle Bill Slacas of the Cleveland Bulldogs and linebacker Carl Woodward of Texas Southern.

Chisox Tighten Race, Romp 9-3

Orioles Regain AL Lead, Hand Yankees 6-1 Setback

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

To Hank Bauer, he might be "the disappointment," but to the New York Yankees he's the nemesis.

He — Steve Barber — pitched and batted Baltimore back into first place in the American League Thursday night, leading the Orioles to a 6-1 triumph over the New York Yankees.

The victory pushed the Orioles one-half game and two percentage points ahead of the Yankees and further tightened the AL pennant race. Chicago, a 9-3 winner over Boston, stands in third place, only 1 1/2 games from first.

Manager Bauer, recently discussing his Orioles, labeled Barber the disappointment of the team this season. After all, he was 12-7 with a 2.78 earned run average at this time last year whereas he's 5-7 with a 3.95 ERA now.

That, however, is not the Barber the Yankees have seen this season. The 25-year-old left-hander has won only two games in seven starts the past month, but both have been against New York. He has allowed just one run in each contest.

His victory Thursday night came on a four-hitter and snapped the Yankees' six-game winning streak and the Orioles' four-game losing streak. Even more bitter for New York, though, was Barber's two-run homer in the fifth inning.

The hit wiped out a 1-0 Yankee lead and put Baltimore in front to say.

In other AL games, Washington knocked off Minnesota 7-2 and Cleveland outslugged Kansas City 12-9 in 10 innings.

Barber's homer was his first of the season and fourth of his career. It came on the first pitch from Jim Bouton after the Yankee starter retired two batters following Sam Bowens' lead off double. Bowens later added a pair of singles, driving in a run.

The Yankees got only one hit after the fourth, Tom Tresh's second single in the sixth. They scored in the second on Elston Howard's double, an infield out and Cleto Boyer's sacrifice fly.

Bill Skowron, playing only his second game with Chicago, drove in three runs with a double and two singles as the White Sox unleashed a 16-hit attack against the Red Sox. Johnny Buzhardt won his third straight game from Boston.

The Twins continued their home run hitting, getting one each from Tony Oliva and Bob Allison, but that's all they got. Don Lock and Don Blasingame each batted in a pair of runs in the Senators' five-run ninth that broke a 2-2 tie.

Cleveland won a wild game from Kansas City with three runs in the 10th, the winning run coming on Woodie Held's double and two more scoring on a double by Vic Davalillo. The Indians rocketed to a 7-0 lead in the first inning but eventually fell behind 9-7.

They tied the game in the eighth on Joe Azcue's homer and Dick Howser's run-scoring single.

Annual Grid Game Set Aug. 14

3 Niles Players On North Squad

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Four weeks from tonight, on Aug. 14, the 18th annual Ohio high school all-star football game will be played in Fawcett Stadium with the Southern Rebels trying for their fourth straight victory.

The series stands 8-3 with one tie.

Jim Robinson, longtime director of the game, announced the team rosters Thursday.

John Wirtz of Cleveland St. Ignace will coach the North team, assisted by Jerry Hanlon of Cleveland St. Edward, Don Prentiss of Toledo Maumee, and Joe Reich of Mineral Ridge.

Niles McKinley has three players on the Yankee squad—quarterback Bill Gales, guard Barry Profato and tackle Jim Owens.

The Rebel mentor is Mel Adams of Logan, and assisting him will be John Campbell of Cincinnati Woodward, Ray DeCola of Columbus St. Mary and Chuck Stobart of Mount Vernon. Cincinnati Roger Bacon has a trio of players on the roster—guard Terry Lyons, center John Kaswallman and fullback Ty Anthony.

The traditional coaching clinic will precede the game, opening Aug. 10. Speakers will include Otto Graham of the U. S. Coast Guard Academy, Leo Strang of Kent State, Bob Deveny of Nebraska, Paul Dietzel of West Point, and Woody Hayes of Ohio State.

LA Making Move, Climbs To Within Eight Games Of Top; Phils Trim Bucs

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
The Los Angeles Dodgers aren't staging any music appreciation nights for Manager Walt Alton, but he has to be enjoying that steady hum of hits. The defending world champions, closing the gap on the National League leaders since the All-Star Game, continued their heavy hitting at St. Louis Thursday night by walloping the Cardinals 10-2 behind a 13-hit attack.

Ron Fairly again was the key to the attack, collecting his third homer in two nights plus a pair of singles and driving in four runs while the Dodgers finished the three-game set against the Cardinals with 30 runs and 39 hits.

Since the All-Star break, a period of nine games, the Dodgers have hit at an amazing .303 clip with Fairly showing the way at .412. More important, however, has been the awakening of defending batting champion Tommy Davis, finally starting to hit with regularity.

Davis, who hit .326 last season while winning the batting title for the second straight year, has hammered away at 342 since the All-Star Game and lifted his average to a modest, but respectable .268.

The over-all hitting surge has carried the Dodgers to the .500 level for only the third time this season, cut three games off their deficit and pulled them to within eight games of first place — the closest they've been to the top since June 22.

Meanwhile, Philadelphia and San Francisco again exchanged places in the battle for first place. The Phillies rode three hits by rally — starting Cookie Rojas to a 7-5 victory over Pittsburgh and a lead at four percentage over the Giants. Milwaukee's Hank Fischer stopped San Francisco on four hits, 6-0.

Third-place Cincinnati also closed the gap in the tightening race, moving to within 3 1/2 games of the lead by downing Houston 3-2 and the Chicago Cubs crushed the New York Mets 11-1.

Fairly, who has hit only six homers all season, provided the Dodgers with the only runs they needed by slamming a three-run homer in a four-run, first-inning uprising. He wound up the St. Louis series with six hits and 10 runs batted in.

The victim of the Dodgers' first-inning surge was Ray Sadecki, the Cardinals' big winner who now is 10-7. Joe Moeller won it with Bob Miller's relief help.

The Phillies, winning only their second game in the last eight, scored two runs in the third inning after Rojas started things with a single and came back with three more in the fifth after Rojas smacked a leadoff double. Rojas also collected another single.

The Phillies went against the book in the eighth when Jack Baldschun, working in relief of Art Mahaffey, walked Jerry Lynch intentionally, filling the bases and putting the potential winning run on with two out. Baldschun got out of the jam by striking out Donn Clendenon.

The Braves handed the Giants their third straight setback and added to their own streak by posting their eighth victory in the last 10 games and the 14th in 19 games.

Fischer brought his record top.m.; Gold Bar vs. Charlie's

7-5 and contributed to his own support with a two-run double. He didn't need it as Hank Aaron, Joe Torre and Dennis Menke homered off Gaylord Perry.

The Reds scored the clincher in the third inning, breaking a 2-2 tie, and then held off the Colts behind the relief pitching of Bob Purkey and Sam Ellis. MaMtry Keough scored the winning run, beating out a hit to deep porch and racing home from first on Deron Johnson's two-out single.

Ernie Broglio was touched for 10 hits but won his first game for the Cubs since he was acquired from St. Louis June 15. He had heavy support with Billy Cowan supplying a two-run homer and Len Gabrielson contributing a double and two singles.

Beaver Valley Polo Team Plays Saturday

The Beaver Valley Polo Club will entertain Cleveland, at Darlington, Pa., Saturday.

The Cleveland club has been plagued by injuries this season. Dick Knepper, who was hurt in one of the earlier games this season hopes to be back in action this week.

Last Saturday night, the Beaver Valley team defeated Mahoning Valley team 9 to 7.

Triumphs 6-5 In 9th Inning

Willie's Edges Fernengels For 1st Softball Victory

After 17 straight losses, Willie's Bait Shop has chalked up its first City Softball (fast-pitch) League victory as it nipped Fernengel's 6-5 in a thrilling extra-inning contest at Kelley Field Thursday night.

Old Dutch continued its assault on the rest of the loop as it easily whipped third-place Charlie's Boats 9-1.

Gold Bar, who has won one of three encounters with the league leader, rallied for six runs in the fifth inning to whip Merchants 10-4.

Willie pitcher Larry Bowersock, after tossing five hitless innings, ran into some trouble in the late frames. With the winning run with two out score tied 5-5, Willie's tallied as Wayne Walter, who had walked, raced home on a sacrifice fly.

Walter also hit a home run in the sixth, and belted a single sending home Harry Paxon with the tying run (4-4) in the seventh.

FERNENGEL'S (6-11) put together two of its four hits to go ahead in the eighth 5-4 as John DelPavero hit a single, and scored on a double by Chuck Bush.

"Bum" Holenichick led off the bottom of the eighth for Willie's as he singled. After two were out, he tallied the tying run (5-5) on a single by Bowersock.

After walking the first batter in the top of the ninth, Bowersock settled down and got the next three batters to ground out, with all three plays going from shortstop to the first baseman.

Jim Ramsey and Holenichick each had a pair of hits for the winners. The only other hits the losers got were a single by Ron Shaffer in the sixth, and a double by Jerry Jeffries in the seventh.

With the score deadlocked 1-1, Old Dutch showed its power in the fourth as it came up with five big runs. A home run by Jim Barnes, triple by Bruce Feicht and a double by Dick Wyss were key hits in the rally.

Winning Pitcher John Stoffer tied the score for Dutch (15-1) in the third as he tripled and came racing home on a single by Bob Stallsmith.

BACK-TO-BACK SINGLES by Dick Andrie and Dave Drakulich, the first two batters up in the initial inning, gave Charlie's Boats (11-6) a 1-0 lead.

Jack Jackson singled in the third, and Jim Weizenacker socked a double in the fourth for the only other hits the losers got.

Gold Bar (13-3), down 4-2 came up with six runs in the fifth on a walk, three errors, singles by Jim Eckstein, John Eckstein and "Lefty" Miller, and a triple by Don Moulin.

Merchants dropped its ninth game in 17 starts. The losers tallied two runs in the third to take a 4-1 lead as Joe Carmelo and Dwaine hit singles and Raymon Oesch belted a triple.

A word from THERON at the Country Store

Word came to me the other day that I have a dislike for our state highway patrol.

I think our highway patrol is a good outfit and getting better. As a taxpayer it would be foolish for me to do or say anything to hamper the important job they have to do.

There have been times when they did things which I didn't think were proper. I let them know it.

There is just one thing we must not forget, they are working for us and we don't want them to forget it either.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: We were foster parents of a small boy and watched him grow up to be a splendid young man.

Then came the war. Steve was one of the heroic lads who never came back. The pain of losing him was unbearable, but time does heal, thank God.

Recently a young delivery boy came to our door. He looked so much like our Steve that I stared at him in disbelief. Not only did he resemble Steve in physical appearance, but in his voice, the way he moved his head, his walk. It was Steve all over again.

We did not know much about Steve's parents, but this delivery boy must be a relative—perhaps a younger brother.

We now live 2,000 miles from where we reared Steve. So far as we know, Steve never had been out there. This would rule out the possibility, however, that the boy might be Steve's brother.

I'd like to know what you think I should do. I can't get it out of my mind. — FOSTER MOTHER.

DEAR MOTHER: The war has been over almost 19 years. Had he lived, Steve probably would be in his 40s now.

Your description of the delivery boy sounds as if he is too young to be Steve's brother. But ask the boy about himself. No harm will come of it, and it will set your mind at ease.

Uninvited Wife

Dear Ann: My husband is a divorced man. His only daughter is being married in a few weeks. Last winter she telephoned her father and asked him if he would give her away. He agreed and was very pleased.

The wedding invitation came yesterday — addressed to him. My name was nowhere in sight. The girl's mother has not remarried so I know my husband will be expected to sit with his ex-wife and stand at her side in the receiving line. The thought of this burns me to a cinder but I'm trying not to show it.

The wedding will be in Providence, R.I., which is a short trip from here. My husband has not said one word to me about accompanying him, although he knows I'm dying to go.

Please tell me if I should insist that he take me. To be truthful, I am—FROTHING.

Dear Frothing: I've never been able to understand why people want to go places they have not been invited and are not wanted.

You would be as welcome at this wedding as Nasser at a Passover dinner. Stay home and don't make life unpleasant for yourself or others.

Kiss and Run

Dear Ann: I'm a boy 17 who has had only six dates. I'm trying to act sophisticated but there are a lot of answers I don't know yet.

The problem that bugs me right now is one I can't discuss with friends. They would laugh. Maybe you will laugh, too, but since you don't know me and I don't know you, it doesn't matter if you laugh or not.

I have taken the same girl out four times. I think she wants me to kiss her good night. The porch light at her place is always on, and it's a real bright one.

Shall I kiss her in the car or under the porch light? Thanks a lot.—BENJIE.

Dear Benjie: I don't see anything to laugh about. This is a very serious matter. By all means kiss her under the porch light. But get it over in a hurry or you might meet one of her relatives.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Film Idol

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Paul Newman, who can earn up to a million dollars in a single movie, got a $750-a-week raise on Broadway the other day.

"It brought my take-home pay to $103.50," said Paul, celebrating over a can of beer in his dressing room.

He and his wife, Joanne Woodward, are appearing in a limited engagement in a new comedy by James Costigan, "Banyan Kiss."

The play was produced by the Actors Studio Theater, and Newman and Miss Woodward took their roles as a gesture of loyalty to the Actors Studio and the part it played in furthering their careers.

"We were fortunate we could take six months out of our lives to do this," said Paul.

The handsome, curly haired actor, who spent three years riding Navy torpedo planes as a radioman in World War II, seems to have taken the place of Clark Gable as a symbol of masculine virility to millions of feminine film goers.

And Paul has found that the price of being a Broadway matinee idol is that on matinee days the throng of fans waiting at the stage entrance keeps him a virtual prisoner in the theater until after the evening performance. He doesn't like mob scenes, or being pawed.

Opening his second can of beer, his ration between shows, Newman remarked:

"An actor feeds on the satisfaction that he has given people a creative experience."

Paul, who is built as trimly as a college quarterback, feels that the public unconsciously tends to think his screen roles reflect his own personality.

"Many get the idea I'm humorless, just because I play such intense, hard-driving physical characters. Put I'm no Rock of Gibraltar."

"To me life is full of terror. Life is terrifying to anyone who has a conscience."

"But the only way to live is to try to overcome your own fears, by doing what you're afraid of. Anything that frightens you ought to challenge you."

The Doctor Says

By Dr. WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT

Health Questions And Answers

Q—In a recent column you say that "the typical ulcer pain is localized with a finger tip." Does one press hard or lightly with the finger? I have a pain about four inches above the navel. Would that be from a stomach ulcer, my gall bladder, or an injured disc?

A — You Dr. Brandstadt don't press to locate a pain—you just point. If you have to press to elicit the pain we doctors would call it a point of tenderness rather than a pain. Your own pain could be that of a peptic ulcer, heartburn, gall bladder colic (although this is more commonly on the right side), pancreatitis, coronary heart disease, strain of the abdominal muscles from coughing, or possibly colitis, although in colitis the pain usually covers a wider area and shifts about.

So you can see that a doctor must know a great deal more about you than the fact that you have a certain type of pain before he can diagnose the cause of your trouble.

Q—My doctor says I have a floating kidney but that there isn't anything to do about it. He did say that it could easily be come infected. What is a floating kidney and how will it affect my health?

A—Very little is written about floating kidney any more because it is a condition in which the kidney is not fixed and immovable but may slip up or down a short distance. It will not affect your health, but wor-ion and the mode of transmission of different germs vary.

So They Say

I never felt so secure, I told him before we took off that if we got into any trouble he should contact his boss.
